State Board Investigates Defense Communities

The State Board is using August and September by sending B. Ross Evans, state evangelist, to investigate the opportunities in the defense housing projects in and around Portland. At a report given to Portland pastors on August 24 he made a vivid presentation. He reported 238 calls upon members of the church of Christ in five projects. Many folks are interested in the church. His effort was to get them interested in attending some church, preferably one of our own, but attend church. Vanport is presenting the most difficult situation because of government control. But there is opportunity even there for religious work. When the survey is finished the state board will decide what it can do about it. The opportunity is greater than the ability to carry. But the Lord will hold us responsible only for what we can do. But it behooves us to do what we can, not less.

The Centennial Program

The convention has voted for a centennial program to carry until 1946. Two items in the program stand out: First, 10,000 baptisms in the five years preceding convention 1946; Second, a $50,000 special fund for advance projects by convention 1946. During September and October the president and secretary of the board will contact the pastors of the state with the objective of getting the wheels of the program to move with speed. Everybody must be enlisted.

Warning to Churches

A certain preacher who was "dishonorably discharged" from the ministery in a mid-west state has been writing to churches in the Northwest in an effort to locate. His misdeed was the worst form of depraved manhood. It will pay churches to investigate the record of strangers before giving them a foothold in the pulpit. Your state secretary will be glad to assist you in this. A worthy man will not object to investigation; an unworthy one will denounce it as "ecclesiasticism."

WEEK OF THE MINISTRY

October 10-17 is the week of the Ministry. Every church is asked to have a sermon on the ministry setting forth its glory and power. Helps for observance of this week may be had by writing to The Pension Fund, 800 Test Building, Indianapolis, Ind.

FOR SALE

The North Bend church has 18 white cotton choir robes, three-quarter length, and suitable for both Junior and Adult choirs, for sale, at $1.00 each. Address J. R. Adams, 1515 Union Ave., North Bend, Oregon.

SALEM FIRST: Church observed its 76th anniversary August 1. They reported the entire payment of $6,000 repairs expense, the Emergency Million goal fully met, a plan for a building fund, and 125 additions the past year. Miss Oma Lou Myers, of Dallas, Texas, has been employed as Director of Religious Education. She is now at work. Dudley Strain is the pastor.

TABERNACLE ROOF

Plans had been made for shingling the tabernacle roof on Labor Day. The shingles had been ordered, the nails purchased, and a gang of men were planning to come. On Thursday before we were notified that we could not get delivery on shingles for ten days or two weeks. The "shingling bee" had to be called off. But the order for shingles stands, and as soon as they be obtained a man will be put to work, and we will use volunteer labor as it is available. The Perrydale church sends a check for $75 for shingles. If you can't work, pay.

EARLE MILLER'S LABORS

The Fourth of July celebration which Brother Miller began with the church in Rockaway was a real success. There were 5 additions to the church, three of whom were for baptism. A regular pianist was recruited and Earle did some good work at the Coast Guard stations during the meetings. The Tillamook Ninety and Niners gave fine support with their presence and a $40 offering. After the meeting closed he presented a program, "The Life of Christ," at Tillamook July 27th.

During the first week in August Earle rallied the Oregon City Church. Good attendance and interest featured it. The boys and girls enjoyed a session of song and study each morning, with 39 present on Thursday. The church gave them a picnic on Friday, and the rally closed that night with four children baptized. Offerings for the week were $73.52. Brother Miller then went to Estacada where Earle Chandler ministers and at last report the meeting was progressing favorably.

DETROIT: A three weeks meeting closed on July 27, Bruce Caldwell, evangelist. There were 3 baptisms, 2 others. Mrs. Caldwell and Mrs. Wiidenan held vacation school at Idanha where a lot has been purchased. Eldon Wiidenan is pastor.

BEND: 4 baptisms, 5 by statement, reported. Held a fellowship dinner July 15 with convention reports. W. I. Palmer, pastor.

WILLAMINA: Burned mortgage August 22. Miss Mittie Cockerhan gave church $500 with which to clean up the debt, and also gave the same amount to the Permanent Fund of the State Board. The church is happy in its new found freedom. Harlan Woodruff, pastor.

VACATION SCHOOL: Erma Cole Rickard reports a Daily Vacation Church School at Lebanon with an enrollment of 170. The children gave a missionary offering of $11.61 to Melba Palmer and $6.57 to White Swan Mission.

87 CONVERSIONS AT BOYS CAMPS

Taps have sounded for the 1943 Boys Camps, but the teachings of the Master which 325 boys have taken home will bear fruit for Him long after the last echoes of the camp have faded into memory.

The first camp, at Anthony Lakes, in eastern Oregon, registered 37 boys, 8 of whom made the good confession. In the camp at Turner for boys 9 to 12 years of age 158 registered and 43 accepted Christ. The second week at Turner there were 76 boys of 12 years and over. 21 confessed Christ and 2 volunteered as life work recruits. In the final camp at Bridge 54 attended and 14 confessed Christ. One lad took his stand for Christ the next Sunday in his home church.

These have been great victories and we appreciate the work of Alger Fitch, Dick Humphreys, Dallas Meserve, and John Stotsenburg of N. C. C. who gave their time that such fruit might be harvested.

Vernon Kullowatz, awaiting call to the chaplaincy, served on the faculty of the first two camps, and from the ranks of ministers Art Stanley, Bill Morse, Elery Farrish, Len Fishback, and Liston Parrish all rendered fine service. Their churches deserve our thanks for lending them. Lynn Hampton, Baker, gave his assistance as purchasing agent in eastern Oregon; and P. H. George, Carlton, generously gave of his time and the use of his truck in taking boys to and from Turner. Many others who cannot be named individually contributed much that the camps might be a success. To the kitchen and nurse corps we heartily second the salutations given them by the boys. And lest we forget, Willie White did a great job as director in each camp.

OBITUARY

Ross Guiley died in the hospital at Roseburg August 2. He had been a patient there for many months. He was one of our best loved ministers. He leaves a wife, two daughters, and a son.

Edward S. Harding died at his home in Milwaukie July 25. He was the father of our Mary Harding. He was a member of the church at Milwaukie. His wife and daughter survive him.

A. M. Peterson died in Providence hospital, Portland, August 3. He was a member and moving spirit in the North Bend Church. His wife and several children survive him. He was a great Christian soul.

Marion Anson died at Camp Maxey, Texas, August 14. His home was in Portland, and he was a member of the Mallory Avenue church. So far as we know he was the first war casualty of our conference boys. His death brings sadness to many of the young people in the state.

NO. BEND: Burned mortgage Aug. 8. A. C. Bates spoke in the mornnig and C. F. Swander in afternoon. 1 confession at morning service. J. R. Adams, pastor.

NORTHWEST CHRISTIAN COLLEGE

STATE CONVENTIONS

The field secretary represented the college at each of the state conventions of the Northwest. Included in the objectives adopted by the conventions was the retirement of all indebtedness of Northwest Christian College. The college will go forward more rapidly than ever through the support of these four great groups of Christian people.

Finances

Financially this has been the best summer in the history of the college. Churches are responding to the One-Dollar-per-Month Club. A number of churches have reached their goal for both years, and are now going the "second mile" by continuing their contributions. New members have been added to the "50 Club" and the "1,000 Club," also, the "Burke Memorial Fund" is increasing.

Students and Service Men

Former students who are now in the service, and a number of alumni chaplains, have been generous in sending their offerings and tithes. Many of the students are giving liberally. We appreciate the loyalty and generosity of all who are helping N. C. C. to win a victory.

Five Months to February

The necessity of making extensive repairs creates a need for money more than ever before. All bills are paid when due and the property fund is steadily growing. However, we must liquidate the $19,000 balance on the property by February, 1944. We have the opportunity now to make Christian education secure in the Northwest. May every individual and every church have a part in winning the victory. Prayer and generosity will pay the debt and give training to Christian young people.

Prospects for the Year

At this time it looks like another record year in attendance at N. C. C. Most of the undergraduates are returning and several of our graduates will return for further work. Every mail is bringing in inquiries from new prospects, some in distant states.

RALLY DAY IS COMING

Rally Day will soon be here. Some churches observe it the last Sunday in September, others the first Sunday in October, and a few find it convenient to postpone it until the second Sunday. Whatever the day, do not miss it.

Many churches have found it profitable to spend the week previous to Rally Day in planning the whole church program for the entire year. In this procedure the entire leadership of the church may be brought together in one planning council.

Whatever procedure you use Rally Day should be a day for the entire church, not simply for the Church School. It should be what its name implies—a day for rallying forces of the church into a campaign for the ensuing year. It should be a day of inspiration, not simply a big "blow-out," but an effort made to get every member, and every student, present for the purpose of enlistment in the church work and life.

For thirty years Rally Day has been observed in Oregon with an offering for state work by the school. Last year the church school offerings amounted to $1,358.42. Will you enlist in this offering this year? If so send it to the state office.

Summer Conferences

The young people's summer conferences this year were a decided advance. At Turner there were 108 students; at Cove, 40; at Bridge, 32. These 180 young people spent a week together as a Christian family studying the Christian way and Christian leadership. Their lives will never be just the same again. Not many come to conference who are not already Christian; but when they do not many go home without becoming Christian. At Cove and at Bridge the confession of faith was heard. Two remarkable evidences of the hold of conference on young people may be cited: First, the conference at Cove did not pay out with the regular fees. The young people, without a suggestion from adults, made up an offering of $20.03 to apply on expense, and several gave individual offerings in addition. Second, the opportunity for investing in "character bonds," a conference method of stimulating responsibility for others, is presented. No appeal is made. The statement is made and it is then left with them. The result at Turner was $262; at Cove, $83; and at Bridge, $31. The world of tomorrow is safe in the hands of the youth of today—if you give them adequate religious training.

A. C. Y. F. Manual

The first issue of the Christian Youth Fellowship manual is now ready. In it you will find a study unit for each Sunday of the quarter; a program calendar for general officers; worship plans, including outlines for 13 Sunday evenings; service, social action, and missionary plans; recreation and social life plans; ideas on publicity, evangelism, and personal religious living; study suggestions; and information for Junior High groups. Send to The Christian Board of Publication, 2700 Pine Blvd., St. Louis (3), Missouri. Five or more copies to one address, 25c each per quarter; individual yearly subscription, $1.35; single copy, 35c.

Educational Committee Meets

The state educational committee will meet in the state office on September 13 for the purpose of reviewing the work that is under its direction. The various members will please take note and come.

Vacation Schools

Forty-two schools reported that they would have a daily vacation church school this summer. There is no better way of engaging the summer time with children than this.

MILWAUKIE: The church has plans for building drawn by A. F. Wickes, architect for the Church Extension Board. They have $650 in cash and will commence on a basement unit as soon as they can get priorities on materials. Alger Fitch is pastor.

OREGON CITY: Ray Smith, pastor, reports a total of 26 additions since beginning his work on May 20. The attendance is holding up well for summer time. They sent 22 young people to Service Camp and 2 to Young Peoples Conference. They are looking forward to Ross Evans in February.

MOLALLA: Has bought a residence property and remodeled it for church use. John Hash, pastor, now gives full time to the church.

LEBANON: J. A. Baxter has resigned to take a chaplaincy. Holly Jarvis has been called and will be there this month. The secretary supplied the pulpit August 15. The church has purchased chimes which may be heard by the entire town. Welcome to Brother Jarvis.

ODELL—VALLEY: The state secretary visited both places Sept. 5. It was a delightful visit. They hope to be settled down with a pastor soon. These two churches make a delightful field. Both have contributed richly to the kingdom.

BAKER: 3 baptisms, 1 other, recently. F. W. Zook, pastor.

WASCO: Has called Keith Fields as pastor.

Honor Roll Requirements

1—Set and reach financial goals.
2—Seek to enlist every woman in the observance of regular devotions. (We are stating this "regular devotions" instead of "daily devotions" as many who miss a day or so do not count it.)
3—Mission study class or leadership training class in your church.
4—Increase World Call subscriptions.
5—Observe Women's Day and Easter Week of Prayer.
6—Support state project (to be announced later—probably a Vanport project.)
7—Definite missionary education for youth and children, reporting same.

"Book Club" Discontinued

The Board felt it would be wise thing to discontinue the promotion of the "book club" as a state-wide idea. It has served its purpose—to encourage reading in the state. We do recommend it to local groups, however, as a way of encouraging their own members to read more. Why not have a book club in your own society, making up your own requirements?

Honor Roll This Year

The following checked their Honor Roll requirements and turned in all checked: Mallory Council, Salem Council, Forest Grove Council, Albany W. M. S., Klamath Falls Council, Medford W. M. S., and La Grande W. M. S.

Convention Training Class

The popularity of the Missionary Officers' class increases and we vote our thanks to Mrs. J. R. Howard, this year's teacher, for the fine way in which it was handled and the amount of instruction and inspiration received. Mrs. Hattie Menzies deserves special commendation for her handling of the program materials for the new year. It is interesting to note that and to say we expect some fine results from this class this coming year. Thirty-five groups were represented in the class. 145 was the largest number present, and that was on Thursday.

NORTHWESTERN CHRISTIAN HOME

Mrs. Laura K. Hill, Supt.

OUR FAMILY CHANGES

Three deaths in August emphasized the fact that ours is a passing, changing family. Twenty - three guests came from Eugene and Walla Walla to the home at Beaverton in the spring of 1939. That was a little more than four years ago. Sixteen of the twenty - three have gone and seven remain. Those still here from Walla Walla are Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Junkin and Mr. Harrison. Those from Eugene are Mrs. Bassford, Mrs. Judson Brown, Mrs. Gulliford and Mr. Heffley.

Ours Is An Aged Family

The last four guests to enter the Home are all past 81, and averaged 84½ years at the time of admission. Only five of the present family are under 80.

Three Recent Deaths

Mr. George Heustis died August 7. He was 93 in June. He entered the Home in Walla Walla from McMinnville 23 years ago this summer.

Miss Carrie Hathaway died August 7 in her 81st year. She entered the Home in Walla Walla from Nebraska six years ago.

Mrs. Jennie Plummer died August 18 in her 78th year. She came to Walla Walla from Spokane Central five years ago.

Our Garden Saves Money

While fresh vegetagles are quoted at appalling prices in the markets our Home family is able to enjoy many from the Home garden. July brought the berry crop of 75 gallons. Carefully kept records indicate that it would have cost $188.03 to buy at retail what was taken from the garden in July.

Our Food Needs

Coupon allowances have been adequate so far for the rationed goods it has been necessary to buy. We are seriously concerned about the supply of canned fruit and vegetables usually provided by women of the churches. High prices with scarcity of time and materials threaten to reduce that supply this year. Therefore we will be especially grateful for that which is given this year. Where it is necessary to can fruit without sugar the jars should be labeled so that sugar can be added when the contents are used. Canned peas are very rare in our menu and we will be very glad for them.

Churches Set New Records

115 Oregon churches have shared in the benevolent work through cash contributions during the year ending June 30, 1943. 18 of them gave $100 or more and three reached the rank of Front Line churches. A front line church is one that provides for a year of care for one or more persons by

Men Plan For Advance

State Committees Meet

On August 22 fifteen men met in executive committee session to consider reports of the Ninety and Nine work and to hear recommendations from the committees on evangelism and boys' work. Willie White was voted two weeks vacation with pay during September and granted an additional two weeks leave. A boys' work fund was established with the balance remaining from the boys' camps. This fund is to be used in the promotion of the Ranger program and in organizing more camps next year. Following the discussion of current business the men separated into convention committees—Planing and Budget, and Publicity and Program. Suggestions from these committees were adopted by the executive groups as a whole.

The Planning and Budget committee is looking upward and forward for the coming year. The new boys' work fund is to be augmented by a budget allotment which will permit a real advance in this field. The evangelistic program is to be strengthened, and the active promotion of Ninety and Nine over the state is to be continued. All in all we shall have before us a great opportunity to take upon us the yoke of Christ as men ought to do in the campaign to win 10,000 in Oregon by 1946. The program committee sounds a ringing note in the convention theme, "Ye Shall Be My Witnesses." There can be no retreat—we must GO with the GOSPEL.

'43 Finance in Home Stretch

Our treasurer reports the following receipts from districts as of August 22: Coos Bay,, $129; Douglas, $42; Eastern, $158; McKenzie, $188; Mid-Columbia, $26; Metropolitan—Northwest, $772; Willamette, $467; Yamhill, $188; Grand total, $1,872. Offerings from the evangelistic field amount to $1,362; income from all sources, $3,436.

On the opposite side of the ledger our evangelists have received $2,000 in salaries, and $581 for expenses, with $65 additional being used for evangelistic advertising. Publicity and promotion has cost $446 (Oregon Christian, $135; travel, lodging and meals, $65; postage, printing and phone, $21; salary, $225). The Turner improvement fund has received $225, and $95 paid for New Testaments, supplies, 1942 convention expense, and other small items. The total expenditures have been slightly over $3,412. With the balance carried over from last year we have on hand $125. In these closing weeks of the fiscal year we need to spend $75 for the tabernacle item, $30 for the Oregon Christian, approximately $445 for salaries, and $50 for convention advertising and expense, a total of $610. At least $500 should be raised to carry the work to October 1. God has blessed us this year—can we do less than win the victory? District goals have not all been reached, but they are only suggestions at best and no doubt some men will wish to share individually in this stewardship. Send all gifts to Earl Noble, 3214 S. E. Woodward, Portland 2, and they will be credited to your church and district.

Notice! Names and Addresses

Please send in the names and addresses of all your district officers, class officers, class teachers, and pastors so we may revise our mailing list in the interest of more efficient publicity. Send to Ed Dewees, 9022 N. Mohawk Ave., Portland 3.

District Doings

Dave Duncan sends a good report of the Yamhill rally at Sheridan on July 19. They are sponsoring a Ranger program for boys at the migrant camp near Dayton. They sent a gift of $10 to the American Bible Society.

The First Christian Church, Salem, entertained the Willamette District on July 26 with 70 men present. J. K. Wishart, pastor of the First Evangelical Church of Salem, brought a rousing message on the need of the church for men. The next rally will be at Albany, September 27.

The Baker men planned a picnic for August 22, and the McKenzie district for August 30. The president of McKenzie district, V. L. Hershizer, 1639 East 19th St., Eugene, is the convention chairman on local arrangements for the state convention in October. Write him how many men from your church plan to attend. Banquet preparations this year will require a definite number of reservations. Teddy Leavitt will be the convention guest speaker this year, as well as in the east Oregon convention.

in Vanport. The men's board is making a two months survey of the work in Vanport and following this survey the money will then be used to the best advantage possible.

Northwest Christian College Books

As a summer project for the missionary societies of Oregon we are asking that each group share in providing one or more new missionary books for the Northwest Christian College Library. A list of these books was made up and posted at Turner and sent out to missionary presidents. You may secure the list from Mrs. Leake.

We would like for the student preachers to know the churches cared enough to do this and we should like for the name of the church group to appear in the bookplate, so either indicate the names of the books or ask Mrs. Kendall Burke to select them for the amount you send in and she will notify you of her selections for the group. No paper bound books should be sent as they are unable to take the wear and tear of constant use.

Send your money to Mrs. Kendall Burke, Northwest Christian College, Eugene, Oregon. Let us finish this up by September so that the new books will be in the library by the time school opens.

(A "Calendar of Activities for Missionary Groups" a column and a half long was omitted from this issue because of lack of space.—Editor).

FOREST GROVE: 16 were added August 22, making 19 the past month. 195 were in Bible School and 175 attended worship service. Hubert E. Sias is pastor.

contributing $300 or more. The total includes all contributions from any source in that particular church. The Front Liners are Portland First, $654.10; Eugene First, $406.30; Albany, $302.

The other churches which reached or passed the $100 mark are: Kern Park, $214; Court St., Salem, $213.63; Corvallis, $167.31; Tillamook, $155.36; Mallory Ave., $153.02; Pendleton, $152.50; Hillsboro, $146; Portland Central, $142.50; Medford First, $141.03; La Grande, $125.05; Cottage Grove, $122.69; Warrenton, $120; Gladstone, $111.35; Klamath Falls, $101.20; Oregon City, $100.

Hopes for This Year

We have three hopes for the year now passing:

That each church will do as much as last year or a little more;

That contributions will again be enough to cover the budget;

That income will be enough to build some reserve balance to protect against deficits if a period of inflation or of suddenly reduced giving should come upon us. —Walter L. Myers.

STAYTON: Kenneth Knox, recently at Medford Central, is the new pastor. Welcome to the Valley, Kenneth.

DRAIN: Has called Jas. H. Powell from Cottage Grove as pastor.

Fee Charges

Due to rising costs of operation tuition charges have been increased to $30 per term, or $2.50 per term hour for part time students. Fees in the music department are the same—private lessons, one per week, on pipe organ, $25 per term; piano or voice, $20 per term; lessons in theory and song leading, $5 per term; training in the college chorus is $1.50. Practice piano rental is $1.50 per term. The drama fee in the speech department is $3, and private lessons, $1 per lesson.

New Dining Hall Policy

Because of government price freezing the dining hall will operate as a cooperative. The college will furnish the equipment and the students will furnish the labor and ration books and share the cost.
